GAME OF THE DEVIL.

It Hails from China and Used to Be Played in Europe.

What is called the "Game of the Devil" dates back in China, where it is called Kouen-gen, to a very remote antiquity, and has been much played in France at different epochs of modern times, especially at the beginning of the present century.

The "devil" is thrown into the air by means of a string which the player keeps taut by the skillful use of two sticks, and upon which he is to catch it. "I remember having often seen this game in the hands of one of my friends," says a contributor to a French periodical. "According to him, the game was in great favor in Belgium in his boyhood, about fifteen years ago, especially at colleges, where the young men often got up genuine matches between two and even three players. The form of the devil varies a little from that of the 'Kouen-gen.' It is made of two tin cones connected by their apieces, and provided with apertures for the production of a humming sound when the devil revolves very fast. A good strong player can easily throw it to a height of more than forty feet."

Something less than a quarter of a century ago this game was much played at Paris. The devil was made of two hollow boxwood balls.

UPROOTING ALPINE ROSES.

What One Swiss Canton Protects Another Pays for Destroying.

There is a reverse side to the beauty and popularity of the "Alpenrosen." A notice which has just run the round of the Swiss press states, says the Westminster Gazette, that the Canton of Appenzell Inner Rhodes has now followed some of the other Cantonal governments by prohibiting the plucking up of Alpenrosen by the roots. Hereupon the Vaterland of Lucerne remarks that the government of Canton Graubunden has done the clean contrary. It gives money every year for the rooting out of "Alpine roses," because on many of the Graubunden mountains they cover extensive ranges of land, which are thus rendered useless for cultivation or pasture. The Cantonal Ban-department pays considerable attention to this form of reclamation, and the uprooters of the romantic flower, who are regarded as barbarians in other Cantons, are there regarded as local patriots.

EVEN WITH THE COMPANY.

"Bluff" from a New Englander That Rubbed Out an Old Score.

The game of "bluff" in honest hands is seldom a winning one, yet an honest young man evened up a loss one day last week through the first bit of "bluff" he had ever tried in his life.

He hailed from New England and ignorant of New York railroads was making a trip to Mamaroneck on the New York, New England and Hartford line. Promised by the conductor that he should be warned when nearing the station, he realized nothing until he had reached Stamford, when the forgetful official turned up to inform him regretfully that he was a dozen miles beyond his destination.

"And shall I have to pay my fare back?" he inquired.

"Don't exactly see how you could get back any other way," was the reply.

With a sense of unjust treatment, the young man purchased a ticket and rode back in the next train.

He made the same trip again two days later. This time he knew just where his station was but falling into a sound sleep he let himself be carried past it until by a strange coincidence he found himself again at Stamford. With an air of injured independence he boarded the next train back.

"See here, conductor," addressing that functionary. "I've been carried through the stupidity of another of your blooming conductors twelve miles out of my way, and if you suppose I'm going to pay you for taking me back again you're pretty far out. You may call for any fare you please. I will not pay it. There's a lot more than that due me for my inconvenience."

"All right, sir," answered the conductor meekly, completely overawed by the apparent depth of resentment confronting him.

"I'm even with that company, murmured the provincial youth blandly when he stepped off the train.

A MYSTERIOUS OFFICIAL.

The Romantic Career of a Belgian Mandarin.

His Story as Related by Himself to a Couple of American Tourists Whom He Entertains in Royal Fashion.

While the young American bicyclists, Messrs. Allen and Sachtleben, were crossing the desert of Gobi, they heard much of a mysterious and powerful official called the Ling Darin. No one could tell who or what he was. Finally, as they emerged from the desert, starved, ill and ragged, they were met by a richly-dressed mandarin, according to the story they tell in the Century. He greeted them cordially in clear but broken English, and, mounted on waiting horses, they were attended into the city of Su-chou. "It was some time before the idea flashed across our minds that this might indeed be the mysterious Ling Darin about whom we had heard so much. 'Yes,' said he, 'that is what I am called here, but my real name is Splingard.'" He then went on to tell us that he was a Belgian by birth; that he had traveled extensively through China, as the companion of Baron Richthofen, and had thus become so thoroughly acquainted with the country and its people that on his return to the coast he had been offered by the Chinese government the position of custom mandarin at Su-chou, a position just then established for the levying of duty on the Russian goods passing in through the northwest provinces; that he had adopted the Chinese dress and mode of living, and had even married, many years ago, a Chinese girl educated at the Catholic schools in Tientsin.

"We were so absorbed in this romantic history that we scarcely noticed the crowds that lined the streets leading to the Ling Darin's palace, until the boom of a cannon recalled us to our situation. From the smile on the jolly face beside us we knew at once whom we could hold responsible for this reception. The palace gates were now thrown open by a host of servants, and in our rags and tatters we rolled at once from the hardships of the inhospitable desert into the lap of luxury.

"A surplus is not always so easily disposed of as a deficit—at least we were inclined to think so in the case of our Su-chou diet. The Ling Darin's table, which, for the exceptional occasion, was set in the foreign fashion with knives and forks, fairly teemed with abundance and variety. There was even butter, made from the milk of the Tibetan yak, and condensed milk for our coffee, the first we had tasted since leaving Turkey, more than a year before. The Ling Darin informed us that a can of this milk, which he once presented to Chinese friends, had been mistaken for a face cosmetic, and was so used by the ladies of the family. The Ling Darin's wife we found an excellent and even artistic cook, while his buxom twin daughters could read and write their own language—a rare accomplishment for a Chinese woman.

"As guests of our highly respected and even venerated host, we were visited by nearly all the magistrates of the city. The Ling Darin was never before compelled to answer so many questions. In self-defense he was at last forced to get up a stereotyped speech to deliver on each social occasion. The people, too, besieged the palace gates, and clamored for an exhibition. Although our own clothes had been sent away to be boiled, we could not plead this as an excuse. The flowing Chinese garments which had been provided from the private wardrobe of the Ling Darin fluttered wildly in the breeze, as we rode out through the city at the appointed hour. Our Chinese shoes, also, were constantly slipping off, and as we raised the foot to readjust them, a shout went up from the crowd for what they thought was a fancy touch in the way of riding."

THE GREAT ARTISTS.

POLLAJUOLO was the son of a poulterer, whence his name, and began his career as a wood carver.

BURGKMAIR was one of the first painters to execute court scenes, such as coronations and marriages.

GUIDO'S later works are very inferior. They were painted in haste, to raise money for the gaming table.

D'AVANZO was the first modern painter who attempted to give an optical illusion to his pictures.

HOLBEIN was only sixteen years old when first engaged in painting altar pieces for the churches in Basle.

DURER was the son of a goldsmith, and, showing an appreciation of art, was apprenticed to a draughtsman.

VALESQUEZ was a self-educated painter. His scenes and models were generally taken from peasant life.

TITIAN began to sketch before he was four years old. His favorite models were his wife and daughter.

JANSSEN'S life was made miserable by an extravagant wife, and his last years were passed in extreme want.

JEAN COUSIN was originally a glass stainer, who left that business to become the first historical painter of France.

HIS BARGAIN.

He Traded a Yoke of Oxen for a Volume of Shakespeare.

A noted character on the border thirty-five years ago was old Jim Bridger, of Fort Bridger, Utah. This man, relates the Youth's Companion, on one occasion visited New York, and saw Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" performed. He had no clear idea as to who Shakespeare was, but he conceived the most extravagant admiration for his genius.

He returned to the fort, and resumed the selling of stock and supplies to travelers and emigrants. One day a man came who had set his heart upon buying a particular yoke of oxen, with which, for some reason or other, Jim was determined not to part.

The man sent a messenger one morning to make a final appeal for the desired yoke, but Jim proved obdurate, remarking that "there wa'n't no use talkin' about it any more."

"Well, he wants 'em," said the messenger. "He's a-waitin' for 'em; he jest sets there readin' a book called 'Shakespeare' and a-waitin' for them oxen."

"What!" ejaculnted Jim, springing to his feet. "Here you, gimme my boots!"

He ran to the corral as fast as his legs would carry him.

"Stranger," he gasped, breathlessly, when he had reached the man, "jest gimme that book and take them oxen."

"Oh, no," said the man; "I just brought the book to read on the way, not to sell."

"Stranger," returned Jim, firmly, "jest you take them oxen and gimme over that book."

The man did so, after some demurring, and Jim, who hired a reader to further his acquaintance with the object of his admiration, was never heard to complain of his bargain, but rather boasted of it on many occasions.

BIRDS COME BACK.

An Instance of Instinct Related by a Truthful Southern Man.

Mr. C. B. Smith, secretary of the Jacksonville board of trade, relates a wonderful story of a bird's instinct, which he vouches for. It is to the following effect: Some time in April last a Chicago woman who was visiting him, she being Mrs. Smith's niece, purchased two nonpareils. On the tenth of that month, as she was getting ready to go home, by some means the cage door was opened and the female bird escaped. She did not desire to take one bird with her, and she left the male bird in the cage at Mr. Smith's, says the Savannah News.

The other morning, as Mrs. Smith was in the room where the cage containing the single bird was, another bird flew through the open window and began circling around the room and finally perched itself near the cage. Mrs. Smith looked at it attentively, and then said to her servant, who stood near by, that this was the bird that had flown off some months before. The servant was incredulous, but Mrs. Smith went up to the strange bird and held out her hand. With a little flutter it settled on her finger. She opened the cage and the bird hopped in, seemingly pleased to get back again. Its mate was at first rather shy of the stranger but within an hour the two were chatting away in bird language at a great rate.

A CURIOUS PROVISION.

One of Nature's Ways of Protecting Her Own.

"Nature has wonderful ways of guarding against the extinction of species," said a Wichita (Kan.) man to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat writer. "The manner in which the eggs and young of the prairie chicken and other ground-nesting birds are protected against their numerous enemies is specially curious. Their escape is attributed by the majority of sportsmen to the alleged fact that in nesting birds the scent which is given out at other times is suppressed. In proof of this statement the fact is adduced that dogs, even those of the keenest powers of smell, will pass within a few feet, or even a less distance of a nesting pheasant without showing the least suspicion that game is near, if only the bird is concealed from sight. This would seem to be pretty strong evidence, but some naturalists refuse to be convinced. They reason that secretions and exhalations are involuntary and therefore cannot be suppressed by the will of an animal. Take whichever side you will. To me it seems likely that, as the exhalation is involuntary, its suppression during incubation may be equally so, and both may be accounted for on physiological grounds when the prying eyes of our naturalists are turned in that direction.

THE BICYCLE.

A New Work to Which That Useful Machine Has Been Put.

The bicycle is being put to many strange uses in these days. It is no longer an instrument for pleasure alone. It is used, of course, everywhere as a cheap and rapid means of transportation, and has the advantage over the horse of not eating anything. That its use in war has been contemplated has been well understood, and that before long it will figure in the army is very likely.

But it is doubtful if the inventor of the machine ever thought anybody would utilize a bicycle in the way that it is used up in Berkshire, Mass., where the boys can be seen at night, mounted on their "bikes," going after the cows.

The only difficulty is, of course, to be able to ride slow enough, and with this sort of practice those youngsters ought to be able to win a slow bicycle race anywhere.

Washington's Pavements.

"Washington to-day," says a correspondent, "has more asphalt pavements than any city in the country with the exception of Buffalo. Of the 164 miles of improved streets in Washington 71 are paved with asphalt, making, 1,773,057 square yards. For the streets on which heavy hauling is done cobblestone is generally used. Of this pavement 14¼ miles have been laid. The heavy grades have been principally paved with granite blocks, of which 28⅛ miles have been laid. In the northeast section of the city the asphalt block has been found to answer the purpose very satisfactorily, and over 13 miles have been put down within recent years. There are still 25 miles of streets laid with coal tar and 11⅜ of macadam."

INGRATITUDE OF NATIONS.

An Instance of It Toward a Hero of the Franco-German War.

A pathetic story of national ingratitude has been going the rounds of the London papers, which is interesting enough to be repeated, especially as it concerns those days of intense interest during which Paris was last in siege. Publicity has been given it by the fact that the hero of the incident has just gone into a French hospital in poverty, there to die. The Pall Mall Gazette thus tells the tale:

"When the German lines, in the autumn of 1870, were gradually closing their boa-constrictor grasp round the doomed capital, Durnof was the hero of the hour. An experienced aeronaut, who had three times been dashed into the sea and had run many other narrow escapes, he proposed with his old balloon Neptune to carry a mail out of Paris and to run the gauntlet of the beleaguering armies. At daybreak, on September 23, he set out on his adventurous journey, the director of the posts assuring him, as he handed in the dispatches and the pigeons, that his courage and devotion would meet with a splendid reward. Durnof succeeded in his task, and landed safe and sound at Evreux, but the poor old Neptune was never fit for another ascent."

"Twenty-two years elapsed, but the unhappy aeronaut never received a penny from successive governments. Even his claim for the value of his balloon, which had been used until destroyed by the military authorities, failed to obtain the slightest recognition. After a couple of decades he got the bronze medal accorded to all who carried dispatches by balloon, and last year a small monthly grant was made which barely sufficed to keep him from starvation. Swindlers and imposters of all kinds laid the foundations of future fame and fortune in the siege of Paris, but the first man who opened up communications between the imprisoned inhabitants and the outer world seems likely to die in dishonor and despair."

DISCOVERER OF TOBACCO.

A Spaniard Named Pane Used It Before Either Nicot or Raleigh.

Though Sir Walter Raleigh was the first to introduce tobacco into this country, says the London Daily News, inquiries into the history of the weed are familiar with the fact that it had already been imported into Europe long before Raleigh was born. The facts are retold in an official summary by Sir George Bonham of the recent financial statement of the Spanish minister of finance. Naturally, the subject is of interest to the controller of the national finances of Spain, as the tobacco monopoly is an important one, and brings in large sums to the state coffers. The first European who became acquainted with the plant was a Spaniard named Pane, who remained in San Domingo on Columbus' return to Spain after his second voyage. He found it used by the natives principally as a medicine. The first specimens of the plant were sent by him to Seville in 1499; but its use in Europe was mainly due to Jean Nicot, a Frenchman of Nimes, who was French ambassador in Portugal in 1560. Its introduction into England by Sir Walter Raleigh, who brought it from Virginia, dates from 1585.

THE SWISS REPUBLIC.

It Has an Executive Council, But No President.

Under the Swiss system, says the North American Review, the executive power is vested, not in a president, but in a council or cabinet of seven, which holds office for three years. The council apportions the departments of state among its own members, and "the members of the council have the right to speak and make proposals in either house of the federal legislature, but not to vote." When the measures proposed by the Swiss ministers are defeated in the legislature, they simply return to their desks and go on with the business of their departments, a form of procedure which has stood the test of experience. We have, therefore, a most satisfactory precedent upon the one vital point at which we must depart from the English model. The Swiss constitution, like our own, is federal; and its federal legislature consists of two chambers. The Swiss executive council or cabinet holds for three years instead of four; the Swiss ministers possess the right to sit in either house, to initiate legislation and debate, without the right to vote; and when the vote upon measures proposed by them is adverse, they remain in office until the end of their terms.

HAD TO HAVE HIS PIPE.

The Rich Chicago Contractor and His Humble Guest.

In one of the fashionable quarters of Chicago, according to the Times, lives an Irishman who has made a fortune as a contractor. He has never forgotten the friends of his youth, especially one Casey, a boss mason, who still lives in the Goose Island district. Casey does not feel exactly at home in the big house, but out of regard for his old friend often spends an evening there with him. On a recent occasion of this sort, a heavy rain set in just as it came time for the visitor to take his leave. "Look here, Mike," said the contractor, as they reached the door, "there's no need of your goin' home in this flood. I have a spare room upstairs. Stay over night wid me." "All right, Tim," replied Casey; "Oi will. The ould woman won't worry." The contractor summoned a servant and had Casey shown to the "spare room." Then he returned to his den to look over the plans of a new block he had on hand. The work kept him absorbed till nearly midnight, when he was startled by a sharp ring at the door-bell. Every one else had retired, and he answered the bell in person. When he opened the front-door, there stood Casey, dripping wet, with a smile on his face. "How's this, Mike?" exclaimed the contractor; "I thought ye was to stay all night here." "So I am, me boy," replied the smiling Casey; "that's why I went home for me pipe."

His Feet.

An honest young man, who had escaped a great peril by an act of heroism, was much complimented for his bravery. One lady said: "I wish I could have seen your feat." Whereupon he blushed and stammered, and finally pointing to his pedal extremities, said: "Well, there they be, mum."

IN EUROPEAN SOCIETY.

Americans Rarely Succeed in Entering the Inner Circles.

Americans, says Vogue, fail to realize that Europeans recognize no social or class distinction in this country. Our people know that this is a republic, that it has been a republic for more than a century, and that the principal doctrine upon which the entire national fabric is founded is that of universal equality. They cannot, therefore, understand that there should be any kind of class distinction or gradations of society. In their eyes all Americans are equal, and the question as to what coterie or clique their American acquaintances belong to in this country weighs but very little with the grand monde in Europe. It is utterly immaterial to them whether their American acquaintance has ever had a grandfather or not: or, if he had, who his grandfather was. They do not care one brass farthing whether he or she happens to be a "born millionaire" or a "made millionaire," and they take their American friends purely and entirely on their merits, altogether irrespective of the social status and prestige they may enjoy on this side of the Atlantic.

But once an American has succeeded in getting himself accepted by the best European society, his position is really a most delightful one, since he is regarded as beyond the pale of class distinction, and is allowed a freedom and a latitude which would never be accorded to any native, no matter how high his or her rank. Notwithstanding all that is claimed to the contrary, there are relatively very few Americans who may really be said to have penetrated the inner circles of European society.

NOT RECEIVING.

A Young Widow's Too Aggressive Caller Neatly Rebuked.

A man of the world was wont to call, not unfrequently, upon a young widow, says the Illustrated American. One day the pretty maid at the door announced that her mistress was out of town. On some pretext, however, the man entered. He also talked to the maid. Some days later, knowing that the lady had returned, he called again. He was a bit surprised when a strange maid met him at the door and showed him to the little reception-room. While she carried his card up the stairs, he reflected that she was not so dainty as her predecessor, and she was not so pretty, though her uniform was similar, and her cap was as stiff and her apron as spotless. He was realizing how much more woman is to the dress than the dress is to the woman, when the maid returned and announced promptly: "Mrs. — is not receiving." The man of the world bit his lips—it was the first time he had ever been denied admittance—and moved toward the door. The maid held it open for him and as he passed through it she blurted out: "And she says, if you please, sir, the maids receive in the kitchen, sir."

THE WALLS OF SEOUL.

How a Party of Travelers Scaled Them After Nightfall.

Seoul, like Pekin, and, what is more, like all the cities of Corea and China, says a traveler, writing in the New York Herald, is surrounded by immense walls; and the gates of the city are closed each evening at set of sun. The latter had been replaced by the moon when we arrived at the foot of these great walls, which must be all of fifty feet in height. Not wishing to leave us to pass the night outside the city and exposed to numberless dangers, the minister had had the happy idea to have us conveyed to a secluded spot where we were assisted to climb over the walls.

A score of Coreans sat astride the top and lowered strong ropes. The ascent was perilous and very difficult. It took at least a half hour to hoist one of our friends, who being enormously stout, gave to the Coreans an immense deal of difficulty, and, besides, he, terrified to find himself swinging in space at the end of a rope, to our great delight, uttered howls of fright. Thus was our entry into Seoul something less than triumphant.

A Brave Engineer.

During the recent strike in the coal regions, a Hocking Valley coal train was stopped by the strikers about a quarter of a mile from a wooden bridge. The leader of the strikers told the engineer that he must not pull the train through, and the engineer declared that he would. "Come down, Jim!" cried one of the strikers. "We know you too well to harm you. We have a keg of powder on that bridge, and when the boys see you coming they are going to light the fuse." "All right," replied the engineer, grimly. "I've promised to pull this train through, and through she goes." With these words he opened the throttle, and the train dashed on. The strikers saw the train coming and lit the fuse. On and over the bridge the train went; as the last car cleared the structure, bang! went the powder, and the bridge was blown to splinters. The fuse was a quarter-inch too long.

The Three Periods of Man's Life.

Lady Dufferin was closely related to Sheridan Le Fanu, of whom Lord Dufferin tells a little story. When a little boy, Sheridan le Fanu wrote an essay on the life of man, which ran as follows: "A man's life naturally divides itself into three parts—the first when he is planning and contriving all kinds of villainy and rascality; that is the period of youth and innocense. In the second, he is found putting in practice all the villainy and rascality he has contrived; that is the flower of manhood and prime of life. The third and last period is that when he is making his soul and preparing for another world; that is the period of dotage."

Law of Gravitation Reversed.

A lawyer by the name of Mayne, who was a highly respected but decidedly heavy person, had risen to a judgeship, while Jeffrey Keller, who had entered on his legal career at about the same time with Mayne, but was more noted as a wit than as a lawyer, was still much in want of clients and fees. The latter was in a court-room one day, when Mayne was solemnly presiding, and he turned to a friend, who sat beside him, and plucked at his sleeve. "See there!" he whispered; "there sits Mayne, risen by his gravity, and here sits Keller, sunk by his levity. What would Sir Isaac Newton say to that, I'd like to know?"

A LANDSLIDE TO REPUBLICANISM!

Democracy's Off Year!

Pennsylvania Go's Republican by 200,000!

New York Downs Hill and Elects Morton!

The Next Congress Will Be Republican!

An Epidemic Among the Roosters and a Happy Time for Coons!

THIS is a bad year for Democrats the slump in the ranks of her voters being a general one throughout the country. We give below a number of dispatches which announces the result from different localities. It is useless at this time to attempt to account for the defeat or to suggest any cure for the future. It is but the swing of the political pendulem, away past its centre, and it will get back again by natural gravity.

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Half the vote of the state shows Evans, Alliance, and Pope, independent Democrat, running even for governor, out the back districts will give Evans from 5,000 to 10,000 majority. The legislature is overwhelmingly for Tillman and will elect him to the United States senate.

INDIANAPOLIS. Ind,—Returns received at Republican state committee headquarters indicate that the Republicans will capture all the thirteen congressional districts by clean majorities. Returns from the state show that Indiana has gone Republican by about 40,000, perhaps 50,000, the legislature being surely Republican.

BOSTON, Mass.,—Governor Greenhalge is reelected by a majority of more than 69,000. According to the latest returns twelve or thirteen congressmen are Republicans. The state legislature is Republican in both branches. The state, with ten small towns missing, gives Greenhalge a plurality of 63,627. The missing towns in 1893 gave Greenhalge, 471, plurality.

NEW HAVEN CONN.—Piggott, Dem., for congress in the Second is defeated beyond doubt. All towns show good Republican gains. Returns from thirty towns out of 168 show a Republican gain of 1,764 over the vote of 1692. Returns from seven towns out of forty-one in Second congressional district show a Republican gain of 757 over the vote for congressman in 1892.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov.6.—Allan L. McDermitt, chairman of the Democratic state committee, says that Stevens, Dem., will be elected to congress from the seventh district, and that the Democrats will elect the 11 assemblymen from Hudson by about 2,000 plurality. He says the rest of the state will not be worth hearing from, and concedes the legislature to the Republicans.

CHEYENNE, Wyoming.—Complete returns from nearly every county in Wyoming show that the Republicans have elected their entire ticket. The election of two Republican United States senators to succeed Senator Warren and Carey is assured. The Republican state ticket will be elected by at least 1,500. The next legislature will be Republican, insuring the election of both senators.

WHEELING, W. Va.—Fragmentary returns from the First, Second and Fourth West Virgina districts indicate that the Republicans have carried all three of them, and Wilson is probably beaten, but complete returns may be required to settle the result. Howard, Dem., is beaten by 800 in the First district. The probabilities are that West Virgina will be represented by a solid Republican delegation in the next house.

DES MOINES IOWA.—A small vote was polled in Iowa and enough returns are at hand to indicate the election of the entire Republican state ticket by 50,000, with the exception of Judge Granger and B. I. Sallinger for the supreme court, whose opponents were endorsed by the Populists. The Republicans elect ten congressmen and the result in the Second district is in doubt, with the chances in favor of the Democrats by a small pluralty.

RALEIGH, N. C.—Returns of the election come in slowly. It is now the belief that the actual result will not really be known until the official canvass tomorrow. The Fusionists claim now that the Democrats lose all the Congressmen and that the Fusion state ticket is certainly elected. The Democrats are enabled to say pretty positively that they have elected two congressmen and possibly three, but they acknowledge all the other districts to be doubtful.

WILMINGTON, DEL,—The majority for the Republican candidate for governor and congressmen is 1,200 in the state. The Republicans elect the county ticket in Sussex and New Castle counties, while Kent county gives 100 Democratic majority. The next state legislature will stand, Senate, five Democrats and four Republicans; house, twenty-one Republicans and seven Democrats, a Republican majority on joint ballot of thirteen. That gives the Republicans the United States senator.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov.6.—At 10:30 tonight John R. Tanner, chairman of the Republican state central committee, said; "One hundred and twenty-five precints outside of Cook county shows a Republican gain of 40 to the precinct. This may not hold good in the agricultnre townships, but sufficent has been received to justify the claim of 75.000 majority, or pluralty, in the state. We have 16 congressmen and both branches of the general assembly. Cook county has gone at least 15,000 pluralty for Republicanism."

DETROIT, Mich. Nov. 6.—The returns from the state up to 10 o'clock to night seem to justify the predictions of Republican leaders of upward of 30,000 plurality for their state ticket. Officers of the Republican state central committee have just stated that their advices thus far received indicate the election of eleven out of twelve congressmen. The Democratic committeemen concede the election of Governor Rich. (Rep.), but will quote no figures as yet. They claim to have elected Mayo (Dem.), for lieutenant governor.

TOPEKA, KAN.—Late returns indicate that Merrill, Rep. has carried the state by from 35,000 to 45,000 over Llewelling Pop. for governor. There appears to be no doubt but that the Republicans have six of the seven congressional districts with the chances generaly in favor of their winning the remaining one. This gives them seven congressmen sure, including one from the state at large, a gain of five with the probability of a gain of six. The Republicans will have a majority of thirty-nine on joint ballot in the legislature.

BALTIMORE Md.—A very heavy vote has been polled in the city and state, and the indications are that the Democrats have carried the city by a reduced majority and that Bush, Democrat, is re-elected to congress in the Third district. Owen, Democrat, in the Fourth, and Kerr, Democrat, are elected judges of the supreme bench, and that the Democrats have elected a majority of the city council. Reports from the interior indicate that Coffin, Repnblican, carries Anneato, defeating Rodger, Democrat, in the Fifth, and that Wellington, Republican, is elected in the Sixth.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 6.—Governor Waite and his followers are buried under an astonishingly big landslide. A very heavy vote was cast. In Denver the women were out early, and four-fifths of the total vote was cast by noon. The entire Republican state ticket is conceded.

Pence (Populist) for First District Congressman is beaten by Shaffroth, Republican, by probably 3500.

In the towns heard from, the female vote was quite large.

Chairman Howbert claims the entire State Republican ticket is elected by 18,000 majority.

Thomas M. Bowen, Republican, for congress. Second district, will have 1500 to 2000 plurality.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Throughout California the polls were kept open until 5 o'clock. The general impression is that Estee, for governor, and nearly all the Republican candidates for state officers have been elected. An unusually large vote has been polled, the weather having been pleasant throughout the state. No serious disturbances are reported. At Vallejo, where several hundred United States marines from Mare Island navy yard registered, notwithstanding the decisions of the courts declaring the registration illegal, trouble was feared. A big force of sheriffs was sworn in and the first two marines who appeared and swore in their votes were arrested for felony. No further attempts were made by the marines to vote. From other points a few arrests are reported. In San Francisco it is generally believed Adolph Sutro, Populist, has been elected mayor.

NEW YORK, November 6.—The Republicans have carried New York state by estimated pluralities ranging from 130,000 to 150,000. These figures represent the probable plurality of Levi. P. Morton, Republican for governor, over David B. Hill, Democrat, based upon the vote of New York city and Brooklyn complete, and returns from more than one half of the election districts above the Harlem river. The total vote for the two leading candidates is considerably in excess of that polled for Flower and Fasset for governor in 1891, in addition to which is the vote cast this year for Everett P. Wheeler, Independent Democrat, which will exceed 20,000. The tremendous Republican sweep in the city and state, it is estimated, has elected 23 Republican congressmen, a gain of eight over the present representation in congress.

NASHVILLE, TENN.—Returns from yesterday's election are coming in slowly. The executive commtitees, both Republican and Democrats, claim to have elected their state ticket. The returns indicate that Henry Clay Evans, Rep., has been elected governor over Peter Turney Dem., the incumbent. The Democrats carried the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, ninth and Tenth congressional districts. The Republicans carried the First, Second and Third districts. One district, the eight is still in doubt. Enloe, Dem., is leading McCall, Rep., by a small majority, but the indications are favorable to McCall. The Democrats will have a safe majority in the legislature, and the election of a Democrat to the United States senate is assured. The Republicans claim that Evans will have a plurality of eight thousand.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2, 1894.—Senator Faulkner is more confident than at any time during the campaign that the Democrats will elect a majority of the next house. His estimates of Democratic success in Indiana and Wisconsin, where the Republicans have been making such sweeping claims, have disconcerted the Republican campaign managers to an unusual degree. It has called their bluffs and they are trying to find a way to keep from showing their hand. Senator Faulkner has been paying particular attention to the congressional end of the New York campaign and, while he has not succeeded in harmonizing the party in New York city to as great an extent as he wished, he considers the Democratic outlook much improved within the last few days. He had a conference with President Cleveland day before yesterday, and it is presumed that they talked about the campaign, but Senator Faulkner hasn't said publicly that they did.

In assuming that members of the cabinet are not interested in the campaign because they are attending to their official duties and are not making speeches, some people are making a serious mistake. The two New York members—Secretary Lamont and Postmaster General Bissell—are registered and both of them have stated that they expected to vote the straight Democratic ticket; Secretary Gresham is registered and says he will go to Chicago and vote the straight Democratic ticket; Secretary Morton, who has just returned from Europe, found so much business awaiting his attention that he paired with a Nebraska Republican and will not go home to vote; Secretary Carlisle isso busy that he will not vote, but he would if there was any doubt about the result in Kentucky; Secretary Smith and Secretary Herbet both expect to vote the straight Democratic ticket, but nobody seems to know Attorney General Olney's intentions.

The anual report of Pension Commissioner Lochren says of the notorious Long pension, which was reduced by the Bureau of Pensions, that under honest but mistaken interpretations of pension laws Judge Long has obtained more than $7,000 to which he was never legally entitled, and adds the belief of the Commissoner, that should Long even take the matter to the U. S. Supreme Court, as he has said he would, the decision may impel him to consider the propriety of refunding this money to the government.

Public Printer Benedict has gone to New York to take part in the closing work of the campaign. He is regarded as high authority in the politics of that state, and just before leaving Washington expressed himself as follows on Democratic prospects:" My correspondence assures me that the party in the state is united and enthusiastic for success. The newspaper accounts further convince me of the fact. I know the active men in most of the counties of the state within the parties. I have met them often in their localities in matters political. I know how much they have been divided of late. I am sure they are now working for victory in the common cause. While this place if not favorable for political prognostications, I am very hopeful of success, and I am sure of a united Democratic party in the state hereafter as the result of Senator Hill's splendid canvass." Mr. Benedict said of another matter in which Democrats are much interested: "I know that Secretary Carlisle is anxious to see the Democratic ticket elected, but of course, as Assistant Secretaries Wike, Hamlin and Curtis are out of town, making speeches for the party in different sections of the country, he is unable to leave here on account of his official duties, and I believe the New York Democrats will appreciate that fact"

The post office department, in order to enlist the assistance of private citizens in the protection of the U. S. mails, both in transit and in post offices, has offerad a series of rewards, $1,000 for the conviction in any U. S. court of any person, on the charge of robbing the mails while conveyed in a mail car attached to a railway train; $500 for a conviction on the charge of robbing the mails while being conveyed over any post route, other than a railway; $250 for a conviction on the charge of attempting to rob the mails, and $150 for a conviction on the charge of breaking into a post office and stealing, $200 when the amounnt stolen exceeds $500.

Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Foster must have lost his political cunning along with his fortune, or he would not have been so foolish as to write a positive denial of his having during the closing days of the Harrison administration ordered the bureau of engraving and printing to prepare plates for the printing of bonds, so that they could be ready for a bond issue at a day's notice. His official order for the preparation of the bond plates is on record at the treasury department, and a copy of it was this week published. "Tell the truth," is the best rule, in politics as well as in everything else. M.

Deserted to Die.

Milwaukee, Nov. 5.—Frederick Kusch, lives near Muskego lake. Two of Mr. and Mrs. Kusch's children died on Thursday and one on Saturday from smallpox. Three of the others and the mother are now sick. Kusch has been fighting the disease single-handed from the start. His nearest neighbor, William Bishop, tried to help the afflicted family. He went for the physician, and the doctor came on Friday, but did not enter the house. He left medicine for the sick and took an order for two small coffin- for the children. Then he went away and has not been seen since. Meantime the father kept up day and night nursing his sick wife and children. He has not had time to bury his dead babies. Their bodies were still in the house this morning. Kusch's neighbors have been afraid to go near his place. In addition to the care of his own family living and dead, Kusch is caring as best he can for his wife's mother, an aged invalid, who has lived with them for years.

How Congress Stands.

New York Nov. 7.—The returns of the congressional election received to day have but emphasized the magnitude of the Republican victory. Since last night the number of Republican representatives has increased from 210, which then seemed the probable number, to 236 and the Democratic and Populist ranks shrank correspondingly in the reports and the latter almost wholly disappeared. The figures show that the Republicans will probably have not only a large majority, but more than two thirds of the house.

PRIVATE and reliable advises from New Orleans indicate that the output of molasses in Louisiana this year has been the largest for many years and it is attributed in part to the very low price of sugar by reason of which many planters made more molasses and less sugar.

China Sues for Peace.

Rome Nov. 5.—A dispatch received here from Pekin states that China is disposed to concine a peace with Japan on the basis of a guarantee of the independence of Corea and the payment of an indemnity, the amount to be fixed by the powers. The dispatch adds that it is reported that China has invited the representatives of the powers to intervene to secure peace.

Yokohama, Nov. 5.—The report cabled to the Associated Press that Fung-Wang-Ching was set on fire before its evacuation by the Chinese has been confiamed by advices from the front. The Chinese, having evidently abandoned the hope of making a successful defense against the advancing Japanese army, set fire to the castle and then fled without waiting to be attacked.

The French steamer Sydney, which sailed on Septemper 16 from Marseilles, for Yokohama, and which arrived at Signapore about October 14, has been seized at Kobe on suspicion of having contraband of war on board.

The British steamer Gaelic, Captain Pearno, from San Francisco, which was seized by the Japanese authorities on the ground that she was carrying contraband of war, has been released, as it was found upon investigation that the suspicion directed against her was unfounded.

The Czar's Funeral.

Livadia, Nov. 6.—It is officially stated that the body of the late Czar, after lying in state in the church of the Palace here, will be taken to Yalta, and from there conveyed to Sebastapol on board the Russian cruiser Pamayat at Mericova. On the funeral train to Moscow the escort will include Czar Nicholas, Czarina, the Czarowitch, Grand Duke George, Princess Alix, of Hesse-Darmstadt and the Prince and Princess of Wales and the members of the foreign royal families related to the Imperial family of Russia.

At Moscow the body of Alexander III. will lie in state for several days at the Archangel Cathedral, and at St. Petersburg the remains of Alexander III. will repose in state in the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul.

At the town where the funeral train stops on its way to Moscow and to St. Petersburg, dinner for the poor will be provided at the expense of the Czar, and at each stopping place a requiem mass will be celebrated.

An Active Career Ends in Murder.

Washington, Nov. 5.—The James Wasson reported in a Jalaya, Mexico, dispatch as having killed his Mexican wife and himself is believed by army officers here to be the James R. Wasson formely in the United States army. He was a volunteer soldier in the late war, and later entered West Point and graduated at the head of the class of which Fred Grant was a member. Resigning from the army he went to Japan and served as professor of engineering in the University of Tokio and also in the Japanese army. While in Japan Wasson married the daughter of United States Minister Bingham, who died a few years later. Returning to the United States he was in December, 1876, appointed a major in the pay department of the army, and while stationed in Texas was short $20,000 of government funds. A court martial sentenced him dismissal from the service and to a term in prison. He was pardoned before the term expired and he went to Mexico.

Probably Father Bush.

The Diocesan Council of the Pittsburg Diocese held another conference yesterday afternoon with Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan to finally dispose of the positions of Vicar General and pastor of St. Peter's Pro Cathedral, Allegheny. The appointments were made. Although it is not known positively, it is believed that Rev. Father Bush, of Altoona, was elected Father Wall's successor. The Bishop and his advisers refuse to give out the information claiming that some of the appointments may not be satisfactory to the priests who were named. From this it can be interpreted that a general change will be made among the priests. It is probable that a Pittsburg priest will be assigned to Father Bush's parish in Altoona, and this would necessarily cause the change.

The Original Inventor.

"Fifty-three years ago I invented the winnowing mill now in common use," said Moses Gillman, of South Sangerville, Me., the other day. "If I had had it patented I might have realized a fortune from it, as all the machines that have been built since have been upon the same principle. Even the threshing machine separators, which have superceded the old time flail, use the winnowing-mill substantially as I first made it for clearing the chaff from the grain. I have invented many other things that were valuable, but I never asked for a patent."

Mr. Gilman, though 77 years old, is still at work inventing, and says if his strength and reason hold out he is going to produce some valuable new ideas yet.

Kills His Brother.

Cranstons Station, N. Y., Nov.6.—A murder was committed at about midnight last night near Garrisons. John and Benjamin Gilbert, brothers, who reside with their mother became involved in a drunken quarrel over politics

John and another brother, James, had been discussing politics, John became aggressive, and James called upon Benjamin for assistance. John thereupon turned on Benjamin and drove him into another room. The door was closed and John fired through one of the panels, killing Benjamin instantly. The murderer was arrested.

Mysterious Murder.

Erie, Nov. 6.—The failure of the Nickel Plate train dispatcher in Conneaut to get an answer from the operator, James Cantlin, at Swanville, this forenoon led to a terrible discovery. Cantlin was found lying on the floor beside his table dead, with a bullet wound through his heart. Whether by his own hand or by one of the nomadic gang which throngs the Nickel Plate is unknown. Cantlin was 24 years old and unmarried He was a one armed man and quite inoffensive. Two brothers are conductors on the road.

—Mr. J. B. Denny, one of the candidates on the Democratic ticket is a resident of Ebensburg and a popular man. The chief reason, however, for his running ahead of his ticket in the three districts at his home is the fact that the influence of the editor of the Gosling and his guardians was Actively Pointed Against Mr. Denny on election day. That caused a number of respectable Republicans, who otherwise would have voted the straight Republican ticket, to vote for Mr. Denny, as a rebuke to the spirit that caused the especial effort against him.

—The ballots furnished by the commissioners at last Tuesday's election were well printed and correct, a credit to the commissioners and fit to come out of any well-regulated printing office, of which there are a number in this county. Unlike the ballots furnished at the last spring election, which besides being botched in printing and required a pair of scissors to get them apart, were incorrect in about two-thirds of the districts, and was such a job as could only emanate from one establishment in the county or perhaps in the commonwealth, and strange to say the establishment, like an idiotic wanton, parades and is proud of its shame. Such is life.

Nuts as a Farm Crop.

The United States department of agriculture will shortly issue a bulletin of most progressive purpose. The claim will be made and substantiated, that pecans, chestnuts, walnuts and other nuts will in the near future, be grown as regular farm crops. The twentieth century will witness a better appreciation of the value of nuts in general, and of the profit that may be derived in growing them. Nuts have a higher nutritive value than the apple, peach and pear. They are of the nature of staple articles of diet, and approach of the grains in food value. Moreover, they are not perishable, and are easily handled, with little weight and risk. This country is largely supplied with nuts from abroad, although nearly all of them might as well be produced in the United States.

Almost a New York Daily.

That Democratic wonder, the New York Weekly World, has just changed its weekly into a twice-a-week paper, and you can get the two papers a week for the same old price—$1.00 a year.

Think of it! The news from New York right at your door fresh every three days—104 papers a year.

The FREEMAN and the World will be sent to any address for one year for $2.00

After running a "speak-easy" in the Gosling office on election day, it is very natural for the editor to loose his bearings and desire to know "where he is at."

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Stowe's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company produced this old-time play at the opera house on Wednesday evening in the presence of a large audience. The company is a good one, and their band and orchestra are very fine. The specialities introduced at intervals in the drama are pleasing in the extreme, and the audience were delighted and refused to leave their seats even when the electric light suddenly went out in the middle of the last act. Topsy is a sack full of fun herself, and the remainder of the company are all good.—The Mitchell, Ontario, Record.

At the opera house Ebensburg Monday November 13.

—The Pennsylvania railroad company has decided to increase its standard of weight of steel rails on the main line from 85 pounds to 100 pounds. The change is to go into effect next year and all new rails between Jersey city and Pittsburg will be of the new standard. The increase is principally due to the heavier locomotives, which the company has gradually been acquiring, beside the increase in speed. Most of the new rails will be 60 feet in length, as against the 30 foot rail now generally used.

EXILED FROM HOME.

It is said that at this time there are twenty-two ex-sovereigns residing in different parts of Europe, none of them in the countries they once ruled.

Pius IX., the late pontiff, was driven from Rome during the stormy days of 1848. He fled in disguise to Gaeta, and remained there until restored by foreign aid.

Emperor Charles V. lived in voluntary exile during the last years of his life. His chief occupation in his retirement was devising new viands to tempt his gluttonous appetite.

A great many of the popes have been forced into exile, generally by emeutes among the turbulent Roman populace. A few were restored, but most of them died in exile.

Marie de Medici, the mother of three queens, was driven into exile by the influence and address of Cardinal Richelieu. She lived in great poverty, often wanting the necessaries of life.

Jerome Bonaparte remained in exile from 1815 to the revolution of 1848, when he was restored to his military rank and made governor of the invalides. He died in Paris in 1860.

Whole families have sometimes been exiled at one time. The Stuart family was twice driven from England, and at different times the Bourbons and the Bonapartes have been expelled from France.

FARM NOTES.

Grasshoppers make a good egg food.

As a rule spinach is a very profitable crop.

In butter color and flavor have no relation to each other.

The ashes of the corn cob contain a large amount of potash.

Overfeeding is the most fruitful cause of a failure to lay.

It is said that fowls that lay white eggs are more prolific than those which lay dark eggs.

An eight-frame hive for bees is now preferred to the ten-frame hive, which has been so long in use.

A great deal of wet land along the banks of streams and ponds can be used for growing the basket willow.

A solution of silicate of soda is said to be a perfect preservative of eggs, and does not injure them in any way.

There is no better grain for poultry any time of the year than wheat, except when fattening. When ready to fatten corn should be used.

NAMED BY THE PUBLIC.

The duke of Wellington was called the Achilles of England, from the victory at Waterloo.

James Fenimore Cooper has been called the Scott of the Seas, from his stories of marine life.

Charles I. was called the Man of Blood by the Puritans and the Royal Martyr by the royalists.

Sir Philip Sidney was the Poet of Kissing, because of the amatory character of much of his verse.

Henry Fielding was called the Prince of Novelists, from his skill in depicting character in fiction.

Haydn was called the Father of Symphony, from the prominence he gave that form of composition.

Charles James Fox was called the Man of the People, from his generally taking the opposition in politics.

A CASE OF TRANSFUSION.

Curious Suit Recently Brought in an English Court.

The legal possibilities of transfusion were brought out in a recent suit in an English court. A man, says the New York Ledger, who was very ill was treated by transfusion of blood as a last resort. He recovered, and after a time his gardner, from whose veins the vital fluid was taken, fell ill. Some one suggested that his contribution to his employer might have caused his illness, whereupon he brought suit, claiming sixty thousand francs' damages. After a good deal of legal investigation experts were appointed to examine and report on the case. This took so long that the man died before the report was finished. The widow, however, continued the suit, even though the post-mortem examination demonstrated that death was caused by cancer of the stomach. The courts decided in favor of the defendant, on the ground that even though the man's vitality might have been impaired by the loss of blood, his voluntary offer for the benefit of another individual released the recipient from all financial liability that might be claimed on account of the transaction.

A UNIQUE FACTORY.

Where Medicine and Food is Manufactured for Dogs.

One of the two factories of this country for the making of patent food and patent medicine for dogs has been described in the New York News. The founder of this novel establishment was a Scotchman. He was employed in London kennels, studied the needs of dogs, thought out special treatment for them, and finally took out patents on food and medicines, and in his unique business amassed a fortune.

On the second floor the visitor enters the receiving room of the raw materials. Thousands of pounds of butchers' scraps are brought here in the course of a month. Oatmeal in wholesale quantities and tons of herbs are used. The old-fashioned dog's bane, boneset, catnip and beet root, under various scientific names, find a use as food or as medicine.

The second floor is occupied by four curious machines with great cylinder attachments. After the fat and the meat have been sorted, they are ground separately in these machines, and then placed in great wooden tubs where various mixtures are added.

The next process seems so much like the ordinary baker's work that one is quite disposed to taste things, and when the round and square cakes of a tempting brown have been taken from the brick ovens, one really envies the aristocratic dog. After cooling, the biscuits are packed in neat pasteboard boxes.

According to size these boxes are labelled for pet dogs, for greyhounds and for St. Bernards. There are specially prepared dishes for cats. Sufficient food to keep pussy for two days may be had for five cents. But it costs a pretty penny to keep a dog. A large dog must have six or eight cakes beside a quantity of meat. The meat costs probably about ten cents and the cakes are four cents apiece.

The most interesting department is that of the patent medicines at the top of the building. The mixture of herbs and chemicals are boiled in great kettles, and the liquid is brought up to this floor to be put in bottles of various sizes and labelled "cure for mange," "liniment for sprains," and "to prevent baldness." Sure cures for seventeen diseases, and pills as well as liquid medicines are made.

This curious establishment also makes dog collars, dog soaps, crates for carrying or shipping dogs, dog brushes and combs, blankets and mackintosh waterproofs with hoods, for greyhounds.

A RUSSIAN EMPEROR'S METHOD.

How He Replenished and Maintained the Imperial Treasury.

Among other expedients to raise money, Ivan resigned the crown in favor of a Tartar khan, who was baptized under the name of Simeon, says the Gentleman's Magazine. Ivan feigned to withdraw himself from public affairs, but in reality he held on to them, and made the new czar call in all the charters formerly granted to the monasteries and bishoprics, and all the charters were canceled. The curious interregnum, or by what other name it should be designated, lasted nearly a year, and then Ivan declared he did not like the new regime, and dismissing the baptized heathen, again took up the scepter which, as a matter of fact, he had never really discarded.

He issued fresh charters to the monasteries, but was careful to keep back several fine slices of the revenues, extorting from some of them fifty thousand and from some others one hundred thousand rubles annually. We shall see, as Ivan character is unfolded, that this spoliation of the monasteries was not the only thing in which he resembled our own merry monarch, Henry VIII. He would send his agents into the various provinces, there to buy up at low prices the whole of some particular commodity for which the province was noted.

After retaining the monopoly for awhile he would sell for a high rate and even compel merchants to buy at the prices he named. He followed a similar course with foreign imports, creating a monopoly and forbidding others to sell their stock until he had disposed of his own. By these means he cleared two hundred thousand rubles in a year.

A Yankee Skipper's Cordwood.

Capt. Robbins had an experience with the peculiar taxes in Sicily, says the Portland (Me.) Press. He took over a cargo of oil from Philadelphia to Marseilles and had thirty cords of ordinary four foot firewood to pack the oil barrels with to prevent their rolling. It is called by the sailors "oil wood." He paid for this wood one hundred and fifty dollarf in Philadelphia. He did not sell in Marseilles because he expected to get more for it in Trapani. But the dealers there offered him only fifteen dollars for the whole of it, saying that the enormous tax upon it would not allow them to offer more. He declared that he'd bring it back to America before he'd sell it at that price, and so he did, and it is here in Portland now, after traveling eight thousand miles over the ocean, and it may go three thousand more, because if he can't get a decent price for it here he will take it back to England, where he is going from here with spool wood. There he can get about one hundred dollars for it. England doesn't want cordwood. She has got enough coal, and less is paid for cordwood there than here.

ENGLISH ROYALTY.

The queen of England always sleeps with her bedroom window open.

Among his many accomplishments the duke of Edinburgh can speak seven languages.

Sir Edwin Arnold said the other day that he indorsed a remark once made by Chauncey M. Depew: "Fame depends on being civil to interviewers."

The duke of York has never conquered his tendency to seasickness, and although he does a great deal of yachting with his father it is not all plain sailing for him.

Lord Aberdeen first met his wife on Guisachan, her father's estate, when he was a lad, and, having lost himself on the hills, begged shelter at the lodge for himself and his pony.

Here is a good story which is told of Sir Arthur Sullivan: It was at dinner, and a young lady inquired of Sir Arthur whether Bach was composing anything at present. "No," he replied; "at present he is decomposing."

The duke of York, who is an enthusiastic stamp collector, recently applied to the agent general of the colonies for specimens of the issues of their countries. In reply stamps have been sent to him by the sheet, and in some cases issues withdrawn have been reprinted for him.

WHY AND WHEREFORE.

Clouds that move in a direction opposite to that of the surface current indicate a change of weather, because they prove the existence of two air currents, one warm and the other cold, and the mingling of these often causes rain.

The strongest muscle is in the calf of the leg, because locomotion is one of the most necessary functions. The great muscle of the calf has been found, by actual experiment, to be capable of sustaining seven times the weight of the body.

Many persons lay a poker across the top of a grate to make the fire burn, because of a popular superstition, once credited, that a stubborn fire was due to the devil. Two pokers were used, and were laid across the fire in the form of a cross.

The human system can endure a heat of two hundred and twelve degrees, the boiling point of water, because the skin is a bad conductor, and because the perspiration cools the body. Men have withstood without injury a heat of three hundred degrees for several minutes.

MEN OF MONEY.

William Waldorf Astor has an income of eight million nine hundred thousand dollars a year.

Princess Tou is an Alaska Indian woman. She is the richest of her race in the far northwest. She is a shrewd trader and wears upon her arm thirty gold bracelets made of twenty-dollar gold pieces.

M. Schneider, the head of the great Creusot foundries, was married the other day in Paris. Creusot has grown in sixty years from a village of five hundred inhabitants to a town of thirty thousand people—larger than Krupp's town of Essen.

Henry W. Cramp, secretary of the great Cramp Ship-building company, is an enthusiastic botanist, and is particularly interested in ferns and palms. His father, Charles H. Cramp, is said to be one of the best-posted men in the country on the commercial and utilitarian value of the various woods of the United States.

GOSPEL HYMNS.

"Drooping souls, no longer mourn," was the work of Thomas Hastings, the author of more than six hundred sacred lyrics, and even better known as a composer of church music for use in popular religious assemblies.

"Come, O Thou All Victorious Lord," is by Charles Wesley. It was written for the quarrymen of Portland, and contained several allusions to their business, which were readily recognized and heartily appreciated.

"O Love divine that stooped to share" was by Oliver Wendell Holmes, and first appeared in one of the series of papers entitled "The Professor at the Breakfast Table," published in the Atlantic Monthly for November, 1859.

"I'll praise my Maker while I've breath" came from the pen of Watts. It was a favorite hymn with John Wesley. The day before he died he sang it through, and the night of his death he vainly attempted several times to repeat its words.

OUR NEIGHBORS ON THE SOUTH.

In the National theater of San Salvador entertainments "veladas" were lately given in memory of Gen. J. M. Rivas and President Francisco Menendez, who were the victims of the revolution which brought the Ezeta brothers to power, from which they have recently been deposed by another revolution.

In Bolivia, the municipality of La Paz, one of the three capitals of the country, with Sucre and Oraro, has forbidden a theatrical company to produce the drama entitled "The Temptations of St. Anthony," unless it was given under another name, as it was said to ridicule religion.

In Chili, Senorita Eva Onesada Acharan received in June the diploma of licentiate in medicine and pharmacy after a brilliant examination by the faculty of Santiago. Two other young women, Senoritas Diaz and Perez, received a similar diploma in 1887, and were the first women in South America to obtain such a diploma.

In Buenos Ayres a new avenue named Le Mayo was opened to the public July 5. The municipal intendencia, in order to commemorate the opening, decreed that a copper medal should be struck and engraved with suitable inscriptions. The medal, accompanied by a diploma, was distributed to all persons who had taken part in the project.

POULTRY POINTS.

Apples are excellent for geese in winter.

Half-blood Brahmas make good sitters and good mothers.

Poultry cannot be kept healthy on wet ground or in damp houses.

The goose should have good pasture. The cow does not need grass more than the goose does.

The farmer or village poultry-keeper should have a good poultry house. It is half the battle.

Beef blood is highly recommended as food for poultry. It is not fed oftener than twice a week.

In building a poultry house make it convenient in every respect. Have the grain bins, vegetable supply and water handy.

Never pluck geese too close to winter. In the south they can be plucked three times a year; in the north not more than twice.

A Valuable Book.

Valued at five hundred dollars an ounce is a certain book in the British museum. It is a perfect copy of the original edition of Shakespeare's sonnets, published in 1609. There are only two copies in existence, and the second one is valued at five thousand dollars. As the book is only ten ounces in weight, it is worth a good deal more than its weight in gold.

HALL'S Vegetable Sicilian HAIR RENEWER. The great popularity of this preparation, after its test of many years, should be an assurance, even to the most skeptical, that it is really meritorious. Those who have used HALL'S HAIR RENEWER know that it does all that is claimed. It causes new growth of hair on bald heads—provided the hair follicles are not dead, which is seldom the case; restores natural color to gray or faded hair; preserves the scalp healthful and clear of dandruff; prevents the hair falling off or changing color; keeps it soft, pliant, lustrous, and causes it to grow long and thick. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER produces its effects by the healthful influence of its vegetable ingredients, which invigorate and rejuvenate. It is not a dye, and is a delightful article for toilet use. Containing no alcohol, it does not evaporate quickly and dry up the natural oil, leaving the hair harsh and brittle, as do other preparations. Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS Colors them brown or black, as desired, and is the best dye, because it is harmless; produces a permanent natural color; and, being a single preparation, is more convenient of application than any other. PREPARED BY R. P. HALL & CO., Nashua, N. H. Sold by all Dealers in Medicines.

ABOUT THE WEATHER.

On the west coast of North America and Europe the heaviest rainfall is in winter; in the interior of the United States and Europe in summer.

The winter of 1887-88 was one of the most severe ever known in Russia, a fact which naturally increases the terrors of the retreat from Moscow.

In northern Europe, says Science, found from fallen snow, mixed with a dust of carbon and iron, which could only have come from meteors.

In 1771 an unprecedented rainfall prevailed throughout India. In one day rain fell for a year and a half, and thousands died of famine. Many districts being depopulated.

In 1658 the winter in Scotland was so cold that the Firth of Forth was crossed the Little Belt on the ice to Denmark with heavy artillery, including cavalry, artillery and baggage train.

In 1887 and the first half of 1888 there were drouth spread over the world. The loss of life was appalling, and is estimated by the Chinese alone at that 9,500,000 lives were lost in the famine.

"Yet," said he, "I cannot help thinking that preys on those trees is not the order of creation that we suppose." Wretched man! that he should have spoken! The bishop looked him in the face and retorted, with withering scorn, "Do you think a bucket of water is a nobler object of contemplation than Winchester forest?"

Sir M. Morley said, in his own confident: "I collapsed, for I never even attempted a reparte."—Pall Mall Gazette.

SHORT SERMONS.

Working without a plan is a waste of strength.

Men are often gainers when they lose their money.

It costs less to be honest than it does to be unhappy.

Too many people would rather be glory than goodness.

It is much easier to be poor without wealth than it is to be rich.

There are too many people who don't know what genuine experience.

A counterfeit is always a poor imitation at the top of its voice to be taken for the genuine.

It is a bad moral atmosphere when vulgarity passes for wit, and men are entertained by a Punch and Horn.
